HERE AND NOW

CONNECT • EMPOWER • DO LIFE

Dear Friend,

The Here and Now Project's mission is to connect and empower those affected by spinal cord injuries and other diseases that cause paralysis or impaired mobility (SCI/D) so they can "Do Life" in the here and now.

Being newly injured/diagnosed is one of the most daunting life experiences to wrap your head around. No doubt you will have a multitude of questions to ask but might not know where to start. Please know you are not alone. We are here to provide support, information and guidance. We have created a network of people who are all doing life to help you, and your family, adapt to life and reintegrate back into the community.

Enclosed inside this Resource Handbook you will find information on many programs, organizations and events that can help someone who is dealing with paralysis. We have divided the handbook into categories focused on someone in the acute stages of newer injuries and diagnoses. Please visit our website www.HereAndNowProject.org to stay updated on our current events and activities in the community.

The information included here is focused on serving people living primarily in the Pacific Northwest. If you need information pertaining to other areas, please email info@hereandnowproject.org.

Although a "normal" life may seem impossible now, let me assure you with time and knowledge things can and will get better. Everyone wants recovery to be an overnight sensation, but it often takes time, and can be a lifelong process. The Here and Now Project's mission is an unwavering commitment to help you maximize your recovery and provide the support you need to maintain your health, independence, quality of life and productivity through this new beginning.

Please do not hesitate to let us know how we can be of assistance to you or your loved one.

Sincerely,

Kenny Salvini
